BIBLIOGRAPHY OF BRITISH AND IRISH HISTORY (BBIH)

The largest and most authoritative index of British and Irish history, covering the Roman period to the present day.

- Over 645,000 records of books, chapters and articles
- Updated three times a year by specialist bibliographers
- 10,000+ records added annually
- 800 academic journals checked weekly for new content
- Indexed using a unique classification scheme that has been designed especially for historians, with the option to search by historical period
- Can also be used to study interdisciplinary and emerging areas within the history discipline

The Bibliography of British and Irish History is an essential resource for anyone interested in the history of Britain and Ireland, or the British World. (…) No student, lecturer or researcher should be without the wonderful BBIH.

Professor Sir David Cannadine, Dodge Professor of History, Princeton University, and President of the British Academy.

An invaluable research tool for Eighteenth-Century Studies

A large number (203,734, or nearly a third) of bibliographic records in the BBIH cover publications relating to the long eighteenth century (1688-1815) in all its aspects.

The multidisciplinary database encompasses a broad spectrum of subjects, ranging from religious history through to philosophy, science and the arts; and from military and political history to social and gender studies.
SUBJECT AREAS FOR THE LONG 18TH CENTURY

Subject areas with the largest share of BBIH records for the period 1688-1815

Number of BBIH records per subject area for the period 1688-1815

Number of BBIH records per index term for the period 1688-1815
2. The search results can be ranked according to author, title, or year of publication. The database supports several export formats. Set up email alerts to stay up to date with new research.

3. The bibliographic records contain a wealth of details about publications on the subject. They also provide links to online catalogues to help you find the publications in research libraries in Britain and Ireland, and provide links to the full text where available.
A metrics component enables you to examine in detail trends in British and Irish history, see journal profiles and authors’ publication profiles, and to identify the 50 most active authors and journals in your field of research.

Please contact Brepols Publishers for more details or a price quotation. A 30-day free trial period is available for institutions only.